[Part I] To BERLIN(1)

I am reporting the results of the investigation of the circumstances of desertion of the seamen PORUBOV[11], TURAEV[111] and KUZLYAKIN[1v]: On 14 April PORUBOV, KUZLYAKIN and TURAEV did not have liberty from the ship, after work they were in the crew's quarters and played dominoes until evening [13 groups unrecovered].

It was established that for the period from 26 March through 14 April this year KUZLYAKIN was granted liberty in the city 7 times, TURAEV 6 times and PORUBOV 4 times [3 groups unrecovered] KUZLYAKIN was granted liberty together with TURAEV or PORUBOV. In the ship's command TURAEV, KUZLYAKIN and PORUBOV were above suspicion. It was established that KUZLYAKIN during shore liberty had several meetings with an unknown American with whom

at the hostel for Soviet seamen in SEATTLE visited a police

[59 groups unrecoverable]

by BELENKOV[v] and VELIKOVSKIJ[vi] the police [C] reported that the seamen [6 groups unrecovered] were released. Then it was clear that KUZLYAKIN and TURAEV at the time of detention gave fictitious names. Since then we have not succeeded in getting any information whatever about the whereabouts of the deserters. The captain of the ship "LOZOVSKIJ" at the suggestion of "VOLKOV"[vii] submitted a statement to the police which showed that the deserters stole 198 dollars which had been collected by the crew for the purchase of provisions. Having arrived in SEATTLE I[viii] mobilized a search
